

1 Where is "sendmail script" located

sendmail is one (of many) script commands you can specify when you want ZOHO Creator to perform some actions when a certain event is encountered.

So, if you want to have it send an email when the user submits your Form ... you would insert this command in the on Add on Success section (and/or on Edit on Success section) of your Form.

In order to insert script commands, you should read up the wiki section about how this is done (as it is not something you can learn from a post on the forum).

After that, you should be able (in Edit Mode) to ...

- select the script section of the Form in which you want to insert your script
- select (drag and drop) the sendmail command
- specify the parameters associated with this command by responding to the script builder wizard

Created On : 26-Oct-2009 00:30:03

2 Is there a way to print an individual record in a format similar to the form in which it was entered without printing other records too?

You can print individual records using the summary view.

Created On : 26-Oct-2009 00:31:55

3 To get the permalink of an HTML view,

Click on edit this application and select your HTML view from the views tab.
Now click on More Actions Next to your view name to get the permalink of your HTML View.

Created On : 26-Oct-2009 00:35:21

4 More Actions

You can create a separate HTML view and embed your form/view into it, to disable import/export data. To create HTML view:

Open your application in edit mode.
Select "new view" from VIEWS tab.
Select "Html Page" as view type and specify view name. Click Done to create view.

Drag and drop Embed Form/View from the task pane.
Select component type as Form/View and select the Form/View to be embed from drop-down box.
Specify other embed Form/View properties and click Done to embed the Form/View.
Save Script and access the application to see the changes.

Created On : 26-Oct-2009 00:37:59

5 email uploaded file

- * Go to the Edit mode of the application and click on Share tab.
- * Click on the link "Allow edit access to support " to allow edit access.

Created On : 26-Oct-2009 00:39:29